Major M. Chodacki,
c/o Polish General Consulate,
149-151 East 67th Street,
New York, New York.

Dear Major Chodacki:

I have sent a copy of your letter to Colonel Bruce in London, and I feel sure that he will get in touch with your people there regarding your invitation to certain officers to attend your intelligence school.

As for the matter of the relations between our office in Cairo and your Colonel Sadowski, I cannot understand the situation which you mention in your last paragraph. We instructed our office fully by cable on 17 February 1944. We are cabling them again in the same sense, and I feel sure that satisfactory action will result.

Sincerely yours,

William J. Donovan,
Director.
